Continued Progress and Plans for Open Government Data

Posted by Steve VanRoekel and Todd Park on May 9, 2014 at 8:46 AM EDT

One year ago today, President Obama signed an executive order that made open and machine-readable data the new default for government information. This historic step is helping to make government-held data more accessible to the public and to entrepreneurs while appropriately safeguarding sensitive information and rigorously protecting privacy.

Freely available data from the U.S. Government is an important national resource, serving as fuel for entrepreneurship, innovation, scientific discovery, and economic growth. Making information about government operations more readily available and useful is also core to the promise of a more efficient and transparent

THE ELLIS ACT

SAN FRANCISCO FAMILIES FORC
HOMES,
1/1/1997 - 6/5/2008

The Ellis Act is a state law which says that la evict tenants in order to "go out of business". All be cleared of all tenants- no one can be singled convert to condos or group-owned tenancy-in-co becomes a condo it is exempt from Rent Control the building, and even if a unit owner subsequent tenant.

There is no limit to the number of times
"go out of business". Rent Board data show Ellising multiple buildings over time. If these buy landlords, why are they buying buildings full of re buildings - now "out of business"- are also showi vacation rentals on sites like AirBNB and VRBO.

With landlords looking for ways to avoid renting t housing crisis in San Francisco will only be exac no-fault evictions here.

If you have been evicted, please fill out our survey comprehensive map in the making!

4th Floor

Our Vision: The 4th floor is a public laboratory and educational facility with a focus on information, design, technology, and the applied arts. The more than 12,000 sq foot space hosts equipment, expertise, programs, events, and meetings that work within this scope. While traditional library spaces support the consumption of knowledge by offering access to media, the 4th floor is unique because it supports the production, connection, and sharing of knowledge by offering access to tools and instruction.

4th Floor hours: Monday through Thursday 2pm-8pm and Friday 2-6pm. Read more
